MOBILE "CHALLENGE OF CHAMPIONS" APRIL 1st and 2nd, 2005

This track and field meet is heading into its 13th year. It has quickly become one of the premier early season prep meets. This meet started in 1993 as a tri-county meet and has expanded into attracting some of the top high school track and field athletes in the country. Many nationally ranked, All Americans, national record holders and state champions have competed. In the past, Stephanie Smith and the first Wendy's Female Heisman Athlete of the Year Erin Droomgle, have competed on the girl's side. The boys have had Olympic Gold Medalist 100 meters Justin Gatlin, 400 meter national high school indoor record holder Elzie Coleman, 2000 Olympic 400 meter hurdle Gold Medalist Angelo Taylor, 2000 and 2004 Olympic Silver Medalist Terrance Trammell, 2004 Olympic 400 meter/4x400 Gold and Silver Medalist Otis Harris, Super Bowl MVP Dexter Jackson and NFL single game rushing record holder Jameel Lewis.

The 2005 Challenge of Champions is scheduled to host the top high school track and field talent from around the nation. The National Scholastic Sports Foundation selected the Challenge of Champions as one of the top 10 Select High School meets in the country and is a Dyestat Elite Meet. Again this meet is scheduled to be part of the United States Track Coaches Association Series of High School Meets.

This is a two-day meet with the Open Division on Friday April 1st 3pm at UMS -Wright School and the Invitational Division on Saturday April 2nd 2pm at St. Paul's Episcopal School. The open division involves 1200 plus athletes and the invitational division has 300 plus athletes. The invitational involves an all finals format and invitations are issued to the top athletes in each event. Last year's meet drew over 4,000 spectators. Many of the meet marks made the Track & Field News and Dyestat national event lists (49 marks). Dyestat will be in Mobile to cover the meet and have the latest results from the meet on their site (www.dyestat.com). Athletes, fans and coaches are again looking forward with anticipation to the 2005 Challenge of Champions.

I look forward to having your athletes compete in this year's meet. Event participation in the Invitational Division is limited so all events are finals. Please confirm your invited athlete's participation early to allow full participation in each event. Enclosed is meet information. Please call me at 251-639-0303 or email me at strackrun@aol.com if you have any questions.
